Know: Data and Analytics to Understand Your Patients and Their Community

No health system can help a population of people without data and the analytics that will identify those in greatest need and suggest strategies. This session will explore which analytics approaches are working, issues such as interoperability and data ownership across the care continuum, and the data essentials for population health management.

Breakout Session 2 (Avalon B)

Do: Clinical Transformation Toward Value-Based Healthcare

Population health transformation starts with a sacrificially honest self-evaluation of the health system's capabilities, from identifying gaps in care to reducing variation across the system. This session will explore clinical initiatives that aim to reduce variations in care, improve efficiency, quality, and outcomes, and engage and align employed and affiliated physicians.

Breakout Session 3 (Kingfisher A)

Join: Community, Payer, and Industry Partnerships

No provider-based system can do it alone, as meaningful transformation requires them to look outward for community resources to support patient goals, and to work with payers to develop risk-based strategies that allow both to move forward. This session will explore effective engagement programs and tools that have the potential to improve the health of the community.
